1 YEAR WITH COVID-19 - WHERE DO WE STAND?

COVID-19 has impacted many industries and coffee is far from immune. As we recognize the 1 year anniversary of the COVID-19 pandemic it is a time for reflection on our efforts to pursue the safety and well-being of our community. What has Mill Creek been doing to ensure safety for all? Early on, we mandated masks for all of our traveling representatives, we established extra cleaning and sanitizing procedures, and we have limited staff contact to make our practices as efficient as possible.

At the same time, we don't want to forget our mission: Coffee service not just coffee supply. So, we are doing our best to still foster that community spirit and personal connection from our team to yours, while making everyone's safety a priority. We are proud of the steps our team has made to adapt.

Globally, coffee production has remained relatively untouched by the pandemic. Key countries, such as Brazil, declared coffee production an essential economic activity early on. While there were challenges in limited staff for harvesting, the crops were bountiful and collected on schedule. We can all rest easy knowing that a pandemic will not separate us from the coffee we love.

WHAT IS FAIR TRADE?

This stamp on your coffee is a symbol of justice. When coffee is Fair Trade certified it ensures that a fair price has been paid to the farmer for the sustainable production of the coffee. Buying Fair Trade supports the prosperity of the farmers and invests in sustainable economic practices. Look for the Fair Trade symbol on these brands: Starbucks, Seattle's Best, Numi Tea, Barnies, and Ethical Bean coffee.

“It's amazing how the world begins to change through the eyes of a cup of coffee.”
